Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Group I claims 1-7 and 15-20 in the reply filed on May 26, 2006 is acknowledged.

Claims 8-14 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the dowel rods, spline, hardware, doors and drawers must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

The drawings are also objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: 70 and 54.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 16 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. For claims 16 and 20, it is indefinite to state that the recess/groove of the edging is for engaging the recess/groove on the panels. The recesses of both members engage respective projecting members of the other member.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 17, 18 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Freeman (3,195,968). Freeman teaches a cabinet (Fig. 1) comprising: top (8), bottom (7), side (9) and back panels (12) and a shelf (11) therebetween. The top, side and bottom panels include a groove (see fig. 3) with generally U-shaped edging material (31, 27,29) located therein so as to form an overhang with an outer surface/outer edge of the panels and a flush relationship with the inner surface of the panels. The edging material also includes an inner recess/groove (made between walls of edging). The cabinet further includes "slack" (feet 48 and the edging) to allow the cabinet to be manipulated to conform to surface on which the cabinet is mounted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3, 15 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Freeman. As stated above, Freeman teaches the limitations of claim 1, including panels with edging material there over. The edging material includes an inner recess. (Note: limitations found in intended use/"for" statements have been given no weight in the claims. For claim 3, Freeman fails to specifically teach the degree of overhang of the edging material. However, it would have been an obvious design consideration to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have the overhang of the edging material be any of a number of dimensions, including between .125 and .5 inches, depending on the desired need of the person constructing the cabinet, e.g. for aesthetic reasons.

For claim 15, Freeman fails to teach that the cabinet panels are connected together via biscuit joints, dowel rods or splines. Rather the panels are attached using miter cut edging and edging members. The examiner takes Official notice that panels connected via biscuit joints, dowel rods or splines are well known in the art. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the cabinet of Freeman by adding one of the features between the panels, to provide additional and interior securement.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Freeman in view of Enns (5,100,216). As stated above, Freeman teaches the limitations of claim 1, including panels with edging material there over. For claim 5, Freeman fails to teach edging on the shelf. Enns teaches edging (26) along side, top and bottom panels and along the fronts of shelves (85). It would have been an obvious design consideration to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to add edging material (and corresponding grooves) on the front edge of the shelf of Freeman, such as is taught by Enns, depending on the desired need of the person constructing the cabinet, e.g. for aesthetic reasons. Freeman in view of Enns also fails to teach plural shelves. However, it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art.

Claim 6, 7 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Freeman in view of Dickson (3,329,473). As stated above, Freeman teaches the limitations of claims 1 and 17, including panels with edging material. For claims 6, 7, and 19, Freeman fails to teach hardware and drawers inside the cabinet. Dickson teaches a cabinet (Fig. 1) with flush inner edging (44) and with flush hardware and drawers therein (see Fig. 3 and column 3, line 21-28). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to add drawers with the necessary hardware in the cabinet of Freeman, such as is taught by Dickson, to add additional and movably mounted storage space therein.
